The Editor's column

by TOM HART, Guest Editor

The editor by now is on the high seas headed out into the blue yonder on board an American navy aircraft carrier, bound for who knows where (The editor doesn't, that's one of those military secrets kept for security reasons or some such thing.)

At any rate, the editor is one of a group of American newspaper publishers, largely from the Central States, who are being carted across the ocean by the government to be given a view of the power of the NATO nations.

It is a nice trip for the editor and we don't blame him a bit for taking it, but to us the whole thing looks like a publicity stunt to try to sell the idea of NATO to some of us rubes and hicks back here on the Central prairies who don't think so much of all this NATO stuff and the huge give-away program of our government.

Thousands of people have the idea the government might do a little more for the home folks, such as helping to build much needed schools and other worthwhile projects instead of continually piling up the burden of taxation on its own citizens and pouring the money all over the world.

The true way to get the real story on anything is to turn a newspaperman loose and let him write the story as he sees it. As we said before, we don't blame the editor for taking this trip, he'll see a lot he never would have seen otherwise and have a fine vacation, but our last admonition to him was "Write your own stories and don't send back to us any of that propaganda handed out by some government publicity mill."

Last week the editor was trying to find out for a good customer of his why the women folks preferred to work in the city rather than in their hometown, where good wages were offered and there would be no transportation expense, etc. Maybe we've got one of the answers to that problem told us by some of the gals who prefer working in the big city.

Here are some of their reasons. A lot of their friends work in the city and they like the companionship of their friends on the train rides. Then again they like the hurly burly life of working in a big store or a big office; they like the noon lunch hour and the strolls down the city streets doing window shopping.

In short, the reason they like to work in the big town is the lure of excitement, being part of the big show and the romance of life in the big town. It's the same lure that has for ages drawn the country boys away from the farm and to the big cities.

Maybe when they are forty years older these gals of the present who are the grandmothers of tomorrow will be happy to get a job close to home in the quiet of a small town and away from the rush and roar of the big town which looks so enchanting to them today.

We hear that some almanac that has hit the long range weather forecast on the head for many years is predicting a big storm for around Thanksgiving, a green Christmas and an open winter until after the first of the year, and then look out for a real rip snorting winter.

Old time river men along the Fox river are forecasting a tough winter on the basis of a heavy moss growth on the north side of the trees in the woods along the river.

We have noticed that the squirrels who last year made no effort to bury or store up nuts have been busily engaged in that work since back in August, so maybe these wise little animals are getting ready for some tough days ahead.

It is not often that the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. makes a wrong guess but in an issue of this paper, dated August 12, 1930, that company predicted Arlington Heights would have a population of 14,000 by 1950. (U.S. census 8,800.) They were three years ahead of themselves. The census in 1953 is 13,380.

If their plant department had faith in that prediction there wouldn't be the long wait for telephone service that is with us today.

Many subscribers have told us they missed the Fence post last week. We also missed the complaints and compliments that usually appear in that department. Perhaps everybody is happy and nobody has any complaints to fire at village and school boards or this newspaper. We are keeping our fingers crossed.

VOTE SATURDAY ON SITE FOR NORTH SIDE SCHOOL

Mandamus Order Against Village Filed By Lot Owner

A writ of mandamus has been filed against the village of Arlington Heights by Leo N. Orris, who was refused permission to have his property on the northwest corner of State and Central rezoned from residential to business to allow the erection of a Shell Service station on the site.

Attorney Hugo J. Thal brought the matter of the court to the village board's attention Tuesday night. Rezoning of the property was denied last March on the following facts:

"That all property owners have the right to rely upon the stability of the zoning ordinance and upon the general rule that changes in classification will not be made except upon showing some impelling reason exists for a change, or the best interests of the village for the general welfare, safety or health would be served by such a change.

"That in the hearing proceedings the petitioner did not show the proposed reclassification would be in the best interest to the public. Therefore the zoning board of appeals recommends the petition be denied and the property not be rezoned."

ORRIS, ON THE other hand, had purchased the property when it was classified as commercial. He told the zoning board he had never been advised of the rezoning of the property and that he had paid the taxes faithfully on the property in order to have a clean slate when the right business opportunity to improve it came his way.

The board will further discuss the matter at a special meeting Tuesday night.

Though the village board meeting did not close until 1:25 a.m., and only then with the understanding that a special meeting would be held to finish the evening's business, there is little to report.

Nearly two hours were spent in ironing out the sewer and water improvement problems in the Sherwood area to be developed by H. R. Jacobsen and Associates. Another hour was devoted to the reading of an ordinance setting rules and regulations for the police department, which was approved and passed by the board.

APPROVAL OF THE minutes, payroll and routine reports took up the balance of the evening, with the exception of two other individuals who were heard. One sought permission to put sewer and water in his property on west Sigwalt, and the other appeared in behalf of the proposed Lutgert subdivision, regarding money to be held in escrow during the development of the project. The board referred the matter to Attorney Thal for his recommendation.

Edmund O'Brien, chairman of the plan commission, also submitted a partial report on parking which has been taken under advisement by the board. The two groups will meet next Tuesday to discuss the report.

Two members of the newly organized Women's Advisory committee were present at the meeting, and were brave enough to sit out the entire session.

Marine Recruiter Back in Heights

Recruiting Sgt. Bob Witt of the Marine Corps is again opening an office in the village hall in Arlington Heights. Office hours will be held each Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Thieves Steal Auto Supplies At Gas Station

Bill's Sinclair Service station on S. State rd., Arlington Heights, was burglarized early Wednesday morning, with the thieves making off with more than $1200 worth of tires, batteries, Prestone, spark plugs, wiper blades and other items, as well as $200 in cash.

A neighbor reported she heard a noise between 3 and 4 a.m., when it is believed that entrance was gained into the station by breaking a window in the rear. The culprits apparently pulled their auto into the garage, loaded up, and then drove out.

Bill Fifield, proprietor of the station, said insurance carried will not cover even half of his loss.

MISS LOUISE DOHE, Arlington Heights, was a victim of strong-arm robbers who made off with her firm's payroll September 11.

Miss Dohe had just returned from the Lake Shore National bank at 605 N. Michigan, Chicago, and was carrying the payroll of the Frisch Corporation, which amounted to nearly $3,000. Two men were waiting for her in the vestibule of the firm at 1400 W. Wabansia.

One yelled—"Hey, you." The other hit her on the hand. The men, who were not armed or masked, grabbed the payroll envelope and ran out. She screamed and other employees of the metal specialties company gave chase. The robbers jumped into a car parked down the block and sped away with the loot.

WILLIAM GOTHAM, 24, and John W. Macrom, 21, of the Arlington Heights trailer park, are being held over to the grand jury on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

They were arrested September 3 while in the company of two juvenile girls in an investigation stemming from an August 28 raid on the Koffee Kup, 6700 N. Mannheim rd. Twelve teenagers and four men were arrested in the raid.

Juvenile Officer Edward Hinks said that he arrested the men after learning they and the two girls had made a trip to Tennessee.

Scouts to Resume Scap Paper Pick-Up In Heights Next Month

The Arlington Heights Scouting organizations have announced the first of their regularly scheduled scrap paper pick-ups after the summer lay-offs. Because of the increase in the number of homes and the volume of waste paper, the village has been divided into two areas and pick-ups will be on different Saturdays.

The first pick-up for the homes and business houses north of the Northwest hwy. will be on Saturday, October 3. The area south of Northwest hwy. will be covered on the following Saturday, October 10. These dates should be noted on the calendar to avoid confusion. It is expected that future pick-ups will be on approximately a two-month schedule.

Residents of Arlington Heights are urged to help in these drives. Scouts and their dads devote a lot of time in preparing for these drives and in actually picking up the paper. The pick-ups have become a community service and are being made on schedule regardless of the price of paper. All receipts are retained in Arlington Heights and are divided equally between the various units of Cubbing, Boy Scouts and Explorers for the purchase of equipment.

Why give paper to out-of-town organizations when local scouts so badly need it? Let's have a tied bundle of paper in front of every home not later than 9 o'clock the morning of the pick-up.

Magazine-Newspaper Drive Launched At Arlington High

The annual magazine drive by students of Arlington Heights high school was launched today (Thursday) at an assembly directed by Bob Ellis, senior, master of ceremonies, and Dennis Maher, senior, chairman of the magazine-drive committee. Max Reynolds, humorist and representative of the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company was the principal speaker.

Paddock Publications caused a stir among the students by adding their editions to the list of publications for which subscriptions may be taken. A generous portion of each subscription fee will go to swell the funds of student activities. Newspaper subscriptions taken during the campaign will begin October 15.

"Collier's," "American Magazine" and the "Woman's Home Companion" head the list of some 70 popular magazines offered in the drive.

Ramble Inn Opens Saturday; Freshmen Special Guests

Ramble Inn, youth center for the Arlington Heights high school district, will open the current season Saturday night with an Open House to welcome all freshmen into its membership.

THE YOUTH CENTER is located at the Arlington Heights field house, where the basement rooms are turned over to the young fry who attend Arlington high, to use as a recreation center for games, dancing and social get-togethers.

An entirely new atmosphere will be prevalent this year, since the basement has been redecorated by the Park District, and $1,300 has been spent for new furnishings, which include beautiful rattan sectional sofas, blonde end tables, and blonde tables and chairs for the refreshment area. Most of the money for this furniture came out of the center's treasury, which was derived from membership fees and profits from the snack bar. The Lions club of Arlington Heights contributed $400.

Ramble Inn is open three nights a week, Wednesdays from 7:30 to 10 p.m., and Fridays and Saturdays from 7:30 to 12 midnight. Memberships are $1.50 a year and are payable by October 28.

THE OPEN HOUSE party will be highlighted by a regular dance band, with dancing in the upstairs auditorium. The party will begin at 7:30 p.m .and will close at midnight.

Last year's membership totaled 750 and an increase is expected this year. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spinks are the new youth center directors, and will be assisted by Robert Campbell, who, with his wife, Lois, had been directors for nearly six years.

The annual Hallowe'en party and New Year's Eve party will again be features of this year's youth center events.

New courses at this year's school include one in "Charm" conducted by a staff member of a downtown modeling school,

Area Has Good Chance To Get Federal Aid For Hospital

Leaders of various civic groups from Wheeling township and Palatine attended a hospital meeting in the Arlington Heights field house last Wednesday evening. It proved to be a most fruitful gathering since the principal speaker was George Weber, assistant chief, bureau of hospitals, department of Public Health for the State of Illinois.

As a result of Weber's discussion of the problems involved in state priority for the granting of federal funds toward hospital construction, those present came away with a much clearer picture of the many complexities involved in obtaining federal funds.

All of Wheeling township lies within a territory designated by the state as Northwest Area I. At the time the territory designation was made, in 1949, it was also determined that the hospital bed need in Northwest I was for 110 beds. Officially, Northwest I has a priority rating which places it sixth on the list of areas within the state to receive federal funds. However, since activity in building a hospital is in progress in only one of the first five areas on the priority list, it appears that Northwest I is in a most favorable position to take advantage of its priority to receive government help.

WEBER ADMITTED Northwest I is actually the most needy area in the state as regards to proper hospital facilities because there are absolutely no approved hospitals in the area. This is an almost incredible situation since the area is so large and contains such a concentration of population. Not only is the population large, but it is composed of people in an above average economic bracket who can afford to support excellent hospital facilities if given the opportunity.

It was brought out clearly in the meeting that the 1949 estimate of a need for 110 beds is certainly an unrealistic and outdated figure. The survey recently completed for the Jaycees revealed an actual need for 213 beds in Wheeling township and the surrounding area alone.

Since the proposed Niles township hospital is also in Northwest Area I, the problem arises as to whether the Wheeling township—Palatine group or the Niles group will get the nod on the priority for federal aid. To a certain extent the ability of the local group to win the state priority depends upon its ability to organize its hospital association and raise funds more quickly than the Niles group. It was clearly brought out in the meeting that the Niles group does not have any formal application registered with the state.

ALL IN ALL, it appears at this time that the movement for a hospital in this area is on a sound basis and there is ample reason to believe that such a movement can be successful in obtaining federal funds.

Weber was frank to say that the designation of Northwest Area I which includes all of Wheeling township, parts of Niles, New Trier, Northfield and Maine townships, was highly arbitrary and somewhat unrealistic, but at that time the state did not know exactly how to divide it up and solved the problem by lumping it all together.

Acting upon the recommendation of Weber, the meeting decided to draw up a case study and present it to the Department of Health showing why the Wheeling township-Palatine area should be redesignated as a separate area with a first rate priority of its own. There is some basis for believing the state would agree to do this. However, this effort will be carried on in conjunction with the already existing plan to organize within the Northwest I designation and gain the priority before the Niles group.

It was agreed that a legally constituted hospital association would be set up within the next week, a charter applied for, and official registration made with the state for a hospital program. The board of directors of this association will immediately solicit general memberships from the public at a nominal fee. Committees to study the location of a site and to determine the manner of raising funds will also be quickly appointed.

Under the Hill-Burton act, the federal legislation authorizing funds for hospital construction, 25% of the hopsital must be completed before any federal grant can be made. Thus, a site must be purchased and 25% of the hospital built out of local funds before government aid is forthcoming. The federal government will contribute 38.89% of the amount raised by the local community.

Seek Approval Of $45,000 For Junior High And Grade School

The approval of the purchase of 19 acres of land for a new junior high and elementary school site in Arlington Heights will be voted on by residents in a special election to be held Saturday.

The ballot will include a proposition to approve the issuance of a maximum of $45,000 for the cost of this site.

Site location is on E. Miner, on the south side of the street, between Dryden place and Arthur ave.

Polling places will be at the North school for those living north of the Chicago and North Western railway tracks and South school for those residing south of the tracks. The polls will be open from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

THE $45,000 bond issue to pay for the land is well above the value of the land as determined by two reputable appraisers retained by the board of education. It is also greater than the amount that has been offered to the owners by the board. Consequently, the board feels relatively certain that this total amount authorized will exceed the cost of the land and other costs involved, even if it becomes necessary to invoke condemnation procedure in order to secure the site. It is not uncommon for it to become necessary for the courts to establish the value of a site where a public body and the owners cannot agree upon a price.

With the rapidly increasing population it has become apparent that the school district must have a site for an eventual junior high school on the north side, as well as for another elementary school to serve the northeast section. The proposed site is well located for both purposes and should eventually lend itself to a development similar to the south side junior high school-elementary school site.

As this paper goes to press a third polio victim has been reported. He is Nicholas Tischer of Arlington Heights who is in the Cook County contagious hospital with a mild case.

To date polio cases in the suburbs number 159, with seven deaths, compared with 257 cases with eight deaths in the corresponding period of 1952.

when you have* Automatic Laundry Appliances!

You won't be schedule-bound . . . when you have modern automatic laundry appliances! "Doing" a laundry is so easy, takes so little time, you can polish it off any hour of any day. You'll add two new days to your week . . . days you used to spend washing, hanging heavy wet clothes, standing for hours over an ironing board.

Your automatic washer will wash, rinse and spin the clothes while you're busy elsewhere. When washing time is up, you'll simply toss the clothes into the dryer . . . where they'll tumble and fluff-dry in minutes. Later, whenever you feel like it, you can sit down at your modern rotary ironer and in no time at all the entire laundry's finished!

You won't dread Monday . . . you won't worry about the weather . . . and you won't have "ironing backaches"—when you have automatic laundry appliances.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Citizens of Arlington Heights interested in school progress will vote this Saturday to authorize the board of education of District 25 to purchase land for a second junior high school and future grade school. The site the board seeks to purchase is of 19 acres and located on E. Miner st., adjacent to the Eastwood section of the village.

The latest population figures as recently announced reinforce the board's school census figures. By 1955-56, they estimate, the entire present South school, as well as the junior high wing, will be taken over by the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Authority to issue $45,000 worth of bonds to purchase the site is sought.

Voting hours will be from 12 noon until 7 p. m., with those living south of the tracks voting at South school and those on the north side at North school. Residence requirements are the same as for any election, but a voter need not be registered.

Fall Fashions

As one of their few money-raising projects, the Nurses' club of Arlington Heights is sponsoring a fall fashion show this Thursday night. Lorraine-Anne shop is providing the latest styles for both adults and children. Furs, jewelry, shoes and bridal wear will also be shown by shops specializing in those things.

The Nurses' club, as its major project, sponsors the Arlington Heights lending closet which offers hospital and convalescent equipment to any one who needs it. There is, of course, no charge for this club service. Tickets for the fashion show may be obtained at the door at $1.20, including federal tax. The affair will take place in the girls' gym at the high school.

Junior Cotillion

This Friday night is registration night for all seventh and eighth graders who want to take part in the fun and festivities of the Junior Cotillion for the coming year. The price of $9.50 includes 10 class lessons and five dances, all under the direction of the popular instructor, Muriel Mills.

Seventh graders are asked to register between 7 and 8 p. m., and eighth graders between 8 and 9, Friday night at the Delores Eiler studio on Campbell st.

Number to be enrolled is limited by the capacity of both the instruction rooms and the dance hall — the field house — so those interested are strongly advised by the committee of mothers who run the group to register this Friday, to be assured of a place.

Officers are: president, Mrs. William Lenheim; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Close; secretary, Mrs. Nat Burfeind, and treasurer, Mrs. Nicholas Lattof.

The Thing To Do

It seems that an awful lot of people in the Arlington area are planning to go to night school. Both in variety and number the courses offered at the Adult Evening school in connection with the high school have appeal for many.

Nearly 50 courses in all are on the schedule, ranging from square dancing and bridge to World Politics, foreign languages, and even reduced admission prices for Village Theatre productions. The popular Travel and Adventure series is again on the docket, too.

Course fees are reasonable, most of them being less than $10. Each student is responsible for a $1 registration fee, however, but he need pay it only once each term even if he registers for more than one course.

"In person" registration will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. at the high school, but mail registrations — acompanied by course fees — may be made any time.

Education is the knowledge of how to use the whole of oneself. Many men use but one or two faculties out of the score with which they are endowed.

Slot Machine Taxes

Lists of slot machine stamps issued in Palatine, Elk Grove and Wheeling townships during July do not include any place within the corporate limits of Palatine, Arlington Heights or Mount Prospect.

Included are local golf clubs and many of the rural taverns. The machines are listed in 276 locations this year, compared to 196 last year. Cook county now places first, although the northwest area has the fewest machines of any other section of the county.

Whistling Job Only Half Done Says Resident

Mrs. Walter Christophersen, 1010 West Euclid, Arlington Heights and many of her neighbors think R. W. Heron superintendent of the North Western railroad has only done a half job in a recent order which directed the removal of a whistle post east of Euclid ave. and allowed to remain a similar post between Wilke and Euclid.

Mrs. Christophersen says that while she appreciates the half job, the east bound trains make just as much noise as did the west bound. Heron in reporting his action, said in part, "We have ordered the removal of the post that would direct the engineer to whistle for Euclid ave. west bound, inasmuch as Euclid ave. is not protected by automatic gates."

Here is an opportunity for Arlington Park residents to speak up.

No Favors Shown to Local Traffic Violators

The new system of handling traffic cases in the Arlington Heights police traffic court is a wonderful improvement and one is greatly impressed by its effectiveness.

Residents would think twice before traveling at excessive speeds or making other traffic violations if they attended a few court sessions and learned the fines that are being dished out under the new system. Judge William Neumann is now assisted by a village prosecutor, Albert Peters, who hears the testimony in the case. The fines are then made by the Judge.

Monday night one man shelled out a total of $54 on three charges, one of speeding, one of no chauffeur's license and one of no tail light. Another paid $29 for not having a valid driver's license, and still another paid $29 for no driver's license and an additional $14 for speeding.

Lt. Elmer Karstens, acting police chief this week, said that the police are clamping down on all violators, and being a resident of Arlington Heights will be no exception. Records show that 11 tickets were issued in one day to Arlington Heights residents violating traffic laws.

E. J. Allison, 510 S. Chestnut, a mailman, was bit by a dog on his left arm, while delivering mail to the Peter Atwood home, 1223 Mayfair rd. The dog, which belongs to the Atwoods will be kept under observation for 15 days. The Atwoods have offered to pay all expenses involved in the treatment of the bite.

Arlington Exchange Employees Have Unusual Safety Record

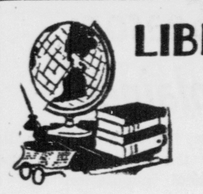

Telephone Company employees in the Arlington Heights exchange compiled a perfect "no lost time" safety record during 1952 to help the Bell System win the National Safety Council's "Award of Honor" for the second successive year, W. C. Lathen, manager here, announced today.

Illinois Bell's contribution to the Bell System record consisted of only 1.67 lost-time accidents for each 1,000 employees, a drop from 1.84 in 1951 and 2.25 in 1950.

"Miss Mary D. O'Malley, chief operator; H. J. Kutchera, wire chief, and I are proud of the fact that the 120 telephone people in Arlington Heights did not lose a single day last year because of on-the-job accidents," the manager said.

Not only was the 1952 safety record the best in Bell System history, but telephone men and women were able to work five times more safely than the average for industry in general. This record was established despite the fact that the Bell Telephone Companies have had to hire and train thousands of inexperienced people to meet the constant demand for telephone service.

Regulations Adopted

Arlington Heights board Tuesday, adopted rules and regulations for the operation of the police department. To date it had no rules or regulations which would define its duties and obligations.

"This is another step forward," says Trustee Richard Bronwell, who prepared and presented these regulations, "because it definitely lets the members of the police department know in writing their various duties, responsibilities and obligations to the village and superiors."

In the past all duties have been on a verbal basis and subject to misinterpretation by the members of the police department and village officials. Such variances in opinion have on past occasions led to conflicts, and possibly less vigorous actions than would have been taken had the men known they could back up their actions with specific authorities.

The present rules and regulations not only state what members of the police department should do, they also spell out things members of the department should not do, such as drink on duty or in uniform, make false reports, engage in political activity, or give out confidential information of the police department.

Behrens Move Old Real Estate Office to Make Room for New Building

Wednesday was moving day for C. M. Behrens & Co., when they literally "picked" up their building and moved it to a temporary site at 8 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights.

The old site, corner of Dunton and Northwest hwy., will soon have a new modern two-story structure upon it, which the Behrens' hope to take over within three months. The company operates a real estate and insurance business and it felt the increase in the village's population requires the company to have more modern and larger quarters if it were going to continue to serve the public.

Cooperating with the Behrens' company is the Willson and Florence Realtors, who are supplying the temporary site for their old office building.

PTA Opens New Season; School Set-Up Explained

The Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher association opened its 1953-54 season Tuesday night with all branches of the school district organization describing their contributions to the association's theme "Alert to Changing Times—American Education, Alert!"

AFTER THE presentation of the colors by the Junior High patrol boys, Mrs. Rosene, PTA president, opened the meeting and asked G. W. Sullivan, treasurer, to offer the next year's budget for the approval of the members present. Mrs. J. T. Goodrich then described plans for the continuance of the Bridge Round Robin which met with such popularity last year.

Mrs. C. K. Cushway, publications chairman, who may be reached at Cl. 3-2200 by anyone wishing to subscribe to the National Parent-Teacher magazine, made a few remarks describing the merits of that publication before Mrs. Rosene turned the meeting over to Mrs. Robert Barbour, vice president and program chairman.

Robert Lockwood, president of the school board and the first speaker, outlined the past activities and the future plans of the school board. In doing so he explained the necessity of the purchase of a new school site on the north side and requested the support of the association in the referendum September 19. He also gave his audience a view into the future and an outline on how the needs of the growing school population can be met.

AFTER introducing the members of the school board present, Lockwood presented Ralph Clabaugh, superintendent of schools, who described the administrative pattern of the school system. In his exposition of this organization, Superintendent Clabaugh called upon the principal of each school to describe the physical set-up of his school and to present each of the teachers to the parents present. In addition, Superintendent Clabaugh acquainted the parents with the school system's guidance director who presnted the visiting counsellor, speech correctionists, nurse, and librarians. The superintendent then called upon the director of buildings and grounds and the cafeteria manager to describe their operations.

At the close of the meeting, the teachers, with gay boutonnieres, joined the parents and guests for refreshments in the school cafeteria.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

An interesting sidelight on "The Strange Case of Alger Hiss" is presented by the Earl Jowitt, in his book of that name (recently published by Doubleday). The point of interest is the comparison of "due process of law" as it is found in this country and as it is understood in British law.

In England, the basic principle of law is that "the Crown cannot lose and the Crown cannot win." The only function and duty of the British prosecutor is to reach for justice. That means that a prosecuting attorney never keeps score on convictions or indictments. He has no score to keep. His job is to obtain justice.

SUCH AN approach to the prosecution of the law is hardly likely to endear itself to American prosecuting attorneys, nor to a great many judges. Certainly it is not likely to please the press, at least the headline writers.

Perhaps it might please the people. It might suggest a carryover so that reaching for justice would actually obtain justice in a great many cases which have never been thoroughly investigated nor adequately prosecuted.

Since it is not the task of the prosecutor to "win" convictions, the defense does not enter court with some bit of surprise evidence awaiting it. Any important evidence for or against the defendant is automatically turned over to the defense. Other practices which are not known are the forcing of confessions, holding people incommunicado, or granting immunity in order to "bag larger game."

THIS IS NOT the place to discuss the Hiss trial, although Morris Ernst has said that the book has led him to doubt the correctness of the verdict. He had been sure that the verdict was correct before reading the Earl Jowitt.

But it is the earl's criticism of our courtroom procedures which are disturbing. Juries are not infallible. A smart lawyer knows that they can be bamboozled or misled. The Earl Jowett is not merely a highly trained lawyer; he is a lucid and capable writer.

As much for information and understanding of the Hiss case, you might well read this book for a fresh under standing of the nature of our courtroom practices. For justice before the law is one of the ultimate rights of a free people.

Napowan Sets New Attendance Records

Camp Napowan, located at Wild Rose, Wis., set a new attendance record this summer season. 526 scouts and explorers spent 831 weeks at the camp, owned and operated by the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Joe Cissna, field executive for the Blackhawk and Signal Hill districts, was camp director this year. He is to be commended for doing a fine job along with the rest of his staff.

Besides doing an excellent job of running camp this year, the staff built the fourth unit and did some finishing touches on the new health lodge. The store, which was kept by Jim Redwanz of Post 707 in Arlington Heights, sold a record volume of handicraft to the campers.

Six out of the seven weeks the camp was open, the maximum number of campers were on hand, 130 being the maximum. The seventh and final week 77 scouts were on hand for "Paul Bunyan Week."

Napowan To Be Bigger In 1954

Camp Napowan will have a bigger capacity next season due to the addition of a new unit which it is my bet will be tagged "the pines." It will be located in the pines north of unit 3.

Besides the new unit, other additions will be made. Construction has already started on an addition to the store. This addition will be used for handicraft instruction. Also, it is hoped that a boathouse can be constructed on the waterfront. A shelter at the rifle range is also a possibility.

Local Boy Attends Shiff Training Course

Chuck Crittenden of post 707, who will be senior patrol leader of troop 7, recently returned from the Shiff Scout Reservation at Mendham, N. J. He attended the Junior Leader's training course there.

Cub Leaders Pow-Wow Coming

Sunday, Sept. 20, at 1 p.m., at the new North school in Des Plaines there will be a cub leaders pow-wow. The purpose of this affair is to train den mothers, pack committeemen, and cubmasters in the best methods and techniques for teaching cubbing to boys.

Order Of The Arrow Fellowship Week-End

The Order of the Arrow fellowship week-end will be held October 2, 3, 4, rather than September 19, 20, as previously announced.

This will be the last opportunity for boys "tapped out" to go through the ordeal this year. This fellowship will be held at Camp Baden-Powell.

Members and candidates are asked to arrive as soon as possible Friday.

Explorer Leaders Training Course To Begin

An explorer leaders training course is scheduled to begin September 28, at 7:45 in the new North school in Des Plaines. It will be carried on each of the four succeeding Monday nights.

Reliable statistics show that 64 per cent of the American women should wear half size dresses; yet many do not realize this. Many feel that while these half size dresses might fit better, they are not available in styles of their choosing. If you're one of these women be sure to stop at Pearce's, corner of Bothwell and Chicago aves., Palatine, for here you will find a full line of youthful Martha Manning Originals in casual and dressy half sizes. These dresses and suits are priced from $8.95. Styled for the woman who is built smaller through the shoulders, fuller through the bust and waist, usually shorter from the shoulder to the waistline and shorter in stature, half size dresses are a size, not an age. These half size dresses at Pearce's are so attractive that at several style shows, many women wanted them never realizing that they were half sizes. Stop in soon and see for yourself. Remember, it's a size, not an age.

Today, Last Day To Attend Antique And Hobby Show

The tenth anniversary Antique and Hobby Show at the Arlington Heights Methodist church will come to a close tonight, September 17, at 10 p. m.

Sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, this three day event has attracted hundreds of viewers during the first two days. Antiques and hobbies of every description surround the "child's nursery," which is set up on the stage.

There is still time for visitors to browse through the antique shops set up in the church parlors, view the many hobbies, enjoy a luncheon or the snack bar which will be open in the late afternoon and evening.

The fine display of flags arranged by Mrs. Robert Marsh, former chairman of the show, is one of the unusual features of the hobby discussion. Of special interest to members of the church and to collectors are the plates showing a picture of the church building to commemorate the tenth anniversary.

The show is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Bronwell.

Sprays of mixed flowers, palms and bouquets with streamers at alternating pews formed the floral setting for the marriage September 12 of Miss Marguerite "Cissy" Doherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Doherty, 338 Derbyshire lane, Arlington Heights, and James P. Mannelly, son of Mrs. Michael Mannelly of Chicago, and the late Mr. Mannelly.

Rev. George Stier, assisted by Rev. Robert Reicher and Rev. Wentland, officiated at the nuptial high mass held at St. James Catholic church at 11 a.m. "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" were among the solos sung along with the traditional wedding mass.

William Moore of Park Ridge was best man and groomsmen included Lewis Huessmann III, Jeffrey Davis, Robert Turton, all of Columbus, and Robert Siemans of St. Louis, Mo.

At the Athletic club reception Mrs. Turton greeted wedding guests wearing a dress of delphblue silk organza accented by a unique fan design. She wore matching accessories and a shoulder floret of delphinium and happiness roses.

Mrs. John Schumacher, aunt of Mr. Sundberg, chose a gown of soft lavender for the wedding. Her shoulder corsage was of white orchids.

For her wedding trip the new Mrs. Sundberg changed to a suit of mauve flannel which was accented by white cutwork collars, cuffs and blouse. Her tiny hat was of French rosebuds.

The bride was graduated from Columbus School for Girls and Northwestern university. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Sundberg is a graduate of Maine township high school and attended Northwestern university. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Nancy Ayers Is Bride Of Kenneth Carson

The First Methodist church of Palatine was the scene August 29 of the marriage of Miss Nancy Ayers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert T. Ayers of Inverness Countryside, Palatine, and Kenneth E. Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Carson of Toledo, Ia.

The bride wore a white lace ballerina length gown fashioned with a lace cape. Her veil was fingertip length, and her bouquet was a creation of a white orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Arlene Erickson of Chicago was the maid of honor, and Miss Carol Oetjen of Chicago, cousin of the bride, and Miss Winnie Oswald of Palatine were the attendants. All wore ballerina length dresses of aqua shantung. They carried crescent bouquets of yellow tea roses and wore bandeaus of the same flowers.

Dale Jensen of Shellsburg, Ia., was best man. Richard Cooper of Toledo, Ia., and Richard Schnell of Chicago were the groomsmen, and Robert Vlasak of Toledo, Ia., and Vernon Hepker of Marion, Ia., assisted in ushering.

The sister of the bride, Mrs. Thomas W. Blaine of Palatine, was the soloist, who sang "I Love Thee Dear," "Through The Years," "The Lord's Prayer," and closed the ceremony with the benediction of "The Lord Bless Thee and Keep Thee." Mrs. Blaine was accompanied at the organ by Miss Mercie Heise of Palatine, who also presented an organ recital preceding the wedding.

The ceremony was performed by visiting minister, Rev. Lester R. Minion of the First Methodist church of Irving Park, Chicago, at 2 p.m. He was assisted by Rev. Harold E. Olson of the Palatine Methodist church.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple honeymooned in Minnesota and will live in Palatine temporarily. In October they will leave for Ft. Sill, Okla., where Mr. Carson will be stationed when he enters the service.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The longing for materiality with its false hopes and fleeting pleasures must give place to a devout desire for spirituality which is the only true foundation for health, happiness and security. This will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 20. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is MATTER.

The Golden Text is from Hosea (1: 7) "I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the Lord their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"Thus saith the Lord the king of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God . . . Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, there is no God; I know not any" (Isa. 44: 6,8).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Belief in a material basis, from which may be deduced all rationality, is slowly yielding to the idea of a metaphysical basis, looking away from matter to Mind as the cause of every effect" (p. 268).

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

Two favorite recipes of Mrs. Carl F. Mees, wife of the Cook county farm adviser, are being featured this week.

One is for a cool and colorful Cream Cheese Salad, and the other is for Apple Dumplings, a tempting dessert.

The cream cheese salad is so rich and delicious that it, too, can be served as a dessert, if desired. However, Mrs. Mees prefers serving it as a salad, for its sweet yet tangy flavor makes it an excellent accompaniment for a ham, chicken or turkey dinner.

The salad can be made in one large single mold or in individual molds. When unmolded, the colorful raspberry layer is on top. The bottom layer is a delicious combination of lemon jello, crushed pineapple, whipped cream, mayonnaise and nuts.

Mrs. Mees' second recipe is most timely for this season, for soon the wonderful fall apples will be on the market. The Apple Dumplings are made by paring and coring six apples. Pastry is then prepared, rolled out thin and cut into six squares, large enough to cover each apple.

The apples are then placed on the squares and filled with sugar, cinnamon and butter. The corners of the crust are pulled up over the apple, overlapping. Then the dumplings are placed in the refrigerator to chill.

The chilling not only results in a more flavorful apple and a flakier, more tender crust, but it is a convenience for the housewife as well, for the dumplings can be made in the morning, stored in the refrigerator and baked while the evening meal is being prepared.

The dumplings are baked in a syrup, and you'll find the results will be a satisfying, delectable dessert.

The Mees family lives at 400 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights. They have two children: Nancy, 12, who attends junior high and Betty, 7, a second grader.

Mrs. Mees is a member of the Arlington Heights Woman's club and the Wheeling Home Bureau.

The Greatest
Gasoline Development
in 31 Years

New Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP*

Boosts power as much as 15%! Increases spark-plug life up to 150%! Gives you extra gas mileage, too!

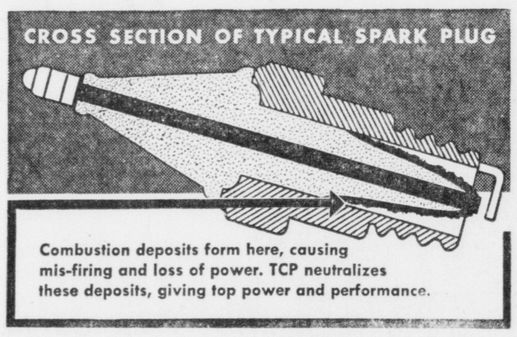

Here's the most revolutionary advance in motor fuels since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922—new Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP, brought to you by special arrangement with Shell Oil Company. TCP is Shell's trademark for the remarkable additive originally developed for aviation fuels.

Now you can actually enjoy the benefits of an engine tune-up—just by changing to new Conoco Super Gasoline. Chances are, by the time you've finished your second tankful, you'll feel the increase in power. And you'll keep that extra power just as long as you use Conoco Super.

For Conoco Super with TCP is a new kind of gasoline. It overcomes the greatest single cause of power loss affecting most of the cars on the road today. Now, you can enjoy all the power that was built into your car.

Why you need Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP

In the average automobile, the by-products of fuel combustion constantly build up deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. These deposits can "cheat" you of power in two ways. First, they actually short-circuit your spark plugs. This causes mis-firing. Second, deposits in the combustion chamber get red hot and cause the fuel to ignite before it should. This is called pre-ignition or "wild ping." The effect of fouled spark plugs and pre-ignition is a loss in power and a waste of gasoline.

Combustion deposits form here, causing mis-firing and loss of power. TCP neutralizes these deposits, giving top power and performance.

How TCP works

TCP is a special chemical additive which is added to Conoco Super Gasoline. It was specifically developed to overcome the loss of power and fuel caused by combustion deposits. TCP neutralizes harmful deposits on spark plugs—your plugs spark as they should. It prevents deposits in the combustion chambers from causing pre-ignition—"wild ping" is controlled. Thus, every time you fill up with new Conoco Super, it's like getting your spark plugs cleaned and your engine tuned-up.

TCP helps your car, whether new or old

If you are driving a new car, with a high-compression engine, you need Conoco Super Gasoline to keep your car delivering all the power that was built into it. It will actually increase spark-plug life up to 150%. If you drive an older car, with tens of thousands of miles on the speedometer, Conoco Super can restore much of the "new car" performance and power you've been missing.

Yes, a great new era in motoring is here for you. Drive into your Conoco station today and fill your tank with new Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP. You'll feel the difference by the second tankful!

Come in and see . . . value check . . . and test drive a Ford today!

No doubt about it . . .

Ford's the one fine car in the low-price field!

Feature after feature . . . part after part . . .
Ford is as fine as the finest . . .
yet it's priced with the lowest.

No car ever built has won such enthusiastic and growing preference as the '53 Ford . . . and no wonder. For no other car with such a wealth of fine-car features costs so little as Ford.

Yes, Ford, with all its fine-car quality, is offered at a price that's easy to pay.

You can have a Ford with a V-8 engine—the same type of engine that powers America's most expensive cars—for hundreds less than many Six-cylinder cars. And a Ford powered with the high-compression Mileage Maker Six costs even less.

Then, too, Ford's body is built like the best, with steel body panels of the same quality and thickness as in the most expensive cars.

Ford also proves that a car doesn't need to carry gas-thirsty extra weight to "gentle" you over the bumpiest roads! For Ford's smooth, level ride blots out the bumps . . . cuts front end road shock alone up to 80%!

Also, you can have your Ford V-8 with Master-Guide, the last word in power steering. Master-Guide cuts up to 75% of turning effort yet it leaves you with the natural "feel" of steering on the straightaway.

There are many other fine-car features, too! Ford Full-Circle Visibility . . . foam-rubber cushioned seats front and rear on all models . . . finishes that are baked on over a complete rust-proofing treatment . . . to mention a few.

It takes all these features to make a fine car truly fine . . . worth more when you buy it . . . and in resale, too! A survey of used car lots proves that people are willing to pay a larger percentage of the original cost for year-old Fords than for any other used cars. No doubt about it, Ford's your best buy!

Worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

New Ideas In Homes

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-286

Design C-286. The kitchen entrance at the rear is an advantage where a narrow lot limits the side yard and deliveries must be made from the rear.

Three bedrooms occupy one side of the plan and can be closed off by one door to the hall. In some cases it is advisable to add a door from the rear entry to the bath to save traffic through the kitchen.

Storage space is provided in coat closets at the front and rear doors, a closet over the stairs, linen cabinet and wardrobes in the bedrooms.

Exterior features include brick planting area, vertical siding in front, wide siding and asphalt shingles. There is a full basement. Floor area is 1032 sq. ft.; cubage, 20,044 cu. ft.

For further information about Design C-286, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Wilson Community

Enroll 99

Ninety-nine children are now registered at Wilson school. In the school year 1947-48, there were 17 students in all eight grades. If this increase is any criterion of the enrollment in the next few years, the present three rooms will be inadequate. At present they are filled to capacity. The upper grade teachers are each teaching three grades, allowing less than 2 hours per day per grade which is inadequate to the interests of the children, making it imperative that another teacher be added to the staff to insure the best possible educational standards.

School was dismissed at 1:45 September 16 to enable teachers to attend a reading discussion at Wheeling school conducted by Mrs. Caroline Korstetter of Scott, Foresman & Co.

The PTA was happy to welcome the many new people who attended the meeting last Friday evening. Mr. Parsons showed two short movies which were very entertaining, and a social hour followed.

Cub Scouts

The first meeting of the season for the Cub Scouts will be held in the school basement at 7 p. m. September 22. All boys ages 7 through 10 are invited to join, and the parents are especially invited to attend this meeting. Anyone interested in assisting this worthy project should contact Don Nygren, CL. 3-1882.

Community Club

The Community club will hold their next party October 3 at 8 p. m. Tickets are available from any club member or may be purchased at the door. The club will be giving a Hard Times party at Fred's Place October 24.

IN MEMORIAM

10 YEARS AGO

This is the day of remembrance
And one of sad regrets.
A day I will always remember
When the rest of the world forgets.
Somewhere above this troubled world
Safe beyond all grief and care
My darling son rests in heavenly peace,
God grant some day I'll meet him there.
Passed on Sept. 16, 1943.
Mother Anna S. Brechlin.

IN MEMORIAM

ELFRING, MARY—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother who passed away one year ago September 11, 1952.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice,
the smile
Of one who once sat there
Beyond the sunset she has gone
Still memories linger on.
Children and Grandchildren.

Because for ever and ever

VA Will Renew GI Insurance Automatically

The Illinois veterans commission announced four million veterans with GI term insurance in force will no longer have to apply to the veterans administration for renewal of their policies for another 5-year term. The VA will do this for them automatically if their policy is in force at the end of the term period with the final premium having been paid timely. Lightning Kills 14 Head of Cattle

Fourteen head of cattle, heifers and steers valued at approximately $2,000, were killed when lightning hit a tree beneath which they had huddled on the Kenneth G. Holze farm, just west of Allen Corners on the Hampshire blacktop road, during Friday night's storm.

The dead animals were found Saturday but are believed to have been killed about 7:30 p.m. Friday when lightning also entered the Holze farm home to blow out electrical fuses and cause other minor damage.

Return from Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Huffman and son, Bud, of Seegers rd. have just returned from an exciting and interesting trip in the East. Their first stop was St. Thomas in Ontario, Canada, where they visited the shops and purchased a few things. Driving on to Niagara Falls, they took a tour of the Canadian side. Friends were waiting to greet them in Bucksport, Maine, where they stayed at the Jed Pronty House which will be written up in Life as the oldest hotel in Bucksport. While there, they drove to Bar Harbor for dinner at the hotel also to Jordons Pond for popovers with strawberry jam for which they are famous. The Huffmans and their friends also enjoyed watching their freshly caught lobsters being cooked on dock at the edge of a Rockefeller estate. They were given permission to climb the lovely old stone steps to Rockefellers' sea wall to eat their picnic lunch and to wander for hours through the vast grounds. After saying a regretful farewell to Maine, they drove to New York City and checked in at the Victoria hotel where again they were greeted by friends. Ten got together for dinner at the Sea Fare. So many things were crammed into four days such as a tour of Radio City, and taking in a show there. Also a baseball game at the Polo grounds and a visit to the zoo in Central Park not to mention a visit to all the leading stores.

Bud Huffman will return to the University of Illinois Wednesday for his senior year.

Conoco to Handle New Super Gasoline

A million-dollar advertising campaign to introduce Continental Oil company's new Conoco super gasoline with TCP, described as "the biggest improvement in gasoline in 31 years," is being launched this week as Conoco's new premium fuel goes on sale at 8,500 Conoco service stations and other outlets in 23 states. TCP, the additive that gives car engines more power and greater fuel mileage is being added to Conoco's new gasoline by special arrangement with Shell oil company.

TCP, the trademark for the power-boosting additive used in the new Conoco super gasoline, is a special chemical compound originally developed to prevent spark plug failure in the air force's giant B-36 bombers. TCP provides better engine performance in two ways. First, it neutralizes spark plug deposits that cause short-circuiting and misfiring. Second, it changes chemically the deposits in combustion chambers that cause "wild-ping" and pre-ignition with resultant power loss. Both conditions are common in both new and old cars.

Bureau Records 303 Sets of Twins One Day

They'll be explaining it away for the next 50 years, say the men in the census bureau when they speak of the 303 sets of twins born on September 23, 1952, instead of the average for that day of 104.

That day, of course, was the Westinghouse blessed event day — the day that Westinghouse gave away a set of laundry twins, a Laundromat and a Dryer, to the parents of each set of twins born from midnight of the 22nd until midnight of the 23rd.

Now that Westinghouse has announced a repeat performance of Blessed Event Day, scheduled for the same date, September 23 this year, there may be a boom in the aspirin business in Washington, D.C., as the men in the Census Bureau fortify themselves for the job of tabulating results on that momentous Wendesday rapidly approaching.

The Junior Cotillion, so popular with seventh and eighth grade students in Arlington Heights, will begin its fourth season September 25.

Plans have been made to include eight classes in the program, permitting more boys and girls to participate. The classes offer 10 hours of social dancing instruction under the direction of Muriel Mills and five parties which are also under the supervision of Mrs. Mills. An orchestra has been engaged for the parties and refreshments will be served.

Any Arlington Heights children in the seventh and eighth grades are invited to join.

Registration will be held September 18 in the Delores Eiler studio, 10 W. Campbell st., from 7 to 8 p. m. for seventh grade students and from 8 to 9 p. m. for eighth grade students.

Number of registrations are necessarily limited and students will be admitted on a first come first served basis. Registration fee of $9.50 covers the 10 hours of class instruction and the prorated cost of the five parties.

A group of seventh and eighth grade mothers sponsor the Junior Cotillion. Officers for the 1953-54 season are: Mrs. W. Lenheim, president; Mrs. C. Close, vice-president; Mrs. N. Lattof, treasurer; Mrs. N. Burfeind, secretary; Mrs. P. Collins and Mrs. W. Frost, co-dance chairmen; Mrs. C. Pratt, Mrs. F. Blose and Mrs. A. Rose, refreshment chairmen. Chaperone chairmen are Mrs. E. Carlisle, Mrs. R. Lemke and Mrs. H. Dunderdale.

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

LOOK OUT FOR Grant high of Fox Lake in the Northwest conference. Wauconda is the favorite but Grant looks like their toughest opposition for the championship. We knew this last season when Wauconda and Grant met in the next to last game of the season. After trailing by quite a margin at half time Coach Dan Werhan put in an all underclass team which proceeded to outplay Wauconda very badly and completed something like 10 out of 11 passes.

Kent Raffel at end and Bill Grenell at quarterback paced this attack and both are back along with 12 other lettermen.

Kent Raffel, weighing 170, and Finley Kennel, a 190 pound guard, were later picked on the first all-conference team. Both will be big factors in Grant's 1953 bid. Other veteran linemen are Noel White, 225 tackle; Harry Robin, 240 tackle; Lary Stauter, 160 guard; Larry Westin, 185 guard; John Lumber 165 end; John Smith, 140 end; and Ed Foreman, 160 end. In the backfield Werhan and his aid Paul Lewis have Ed Holm 165, Bill Neuman 140, Leo Gerresten 155, and Bill Zelasko 160 at halfbacks; Gene Finney 170 at fullback; and Bill Grenell 150, quarterback.

LAST YEAR GRANT had a record of three wins, three losses and a tie. They were the only team to beat Palatine's champs, winning by 7-6. The Bulldogs open the season Saturday night at home against Zion-Benton of the North Suburban conference.

Grant has the best football following of any school in the Northwest conference and this year will play their games on a new field with improved lighting facilities.

Grant was the first school in the Chicago area to inaugurate night football some 20 years ago. Grant has the top enrollment in the conference with 650 students and operates on half day sessions due to lack of school room space. Dan Werhan, football coach, played for Grant high in the early thirties and later competed at Loras College, Dubuque.

LAST WEEK WE MADE a serious error when we listed Wauconda as winner of second place in the Northwest conference last year. Ela-Vernon took second with four wins, a loss to Palatine and a tie with Grayslake. The tie in the final game cut the Bears coached by Bill Lehmann out of a tie for the title. Wauconda lost to Ela and Palatine, placing third in the final tabulation.

In the summer ratings Ela-Vernon loomed as another contender. In an evenly matched race they may still be a key factor but Coach Lehmann does not feel his team can do much more than make a strong bid to get in the first division.

Two regular halfbacks, depended on to key the offense, were lost over the summer. Jim Murphy dropped out of school and John Langfield moved to Chicago. Frosh-Soph prospects are very bright however with 40 on the squad and a halfdozen sophs slated for varsity action.

STILL LEHMANN HAS some very fine ball players returning. Glen Chaffin, lanky end, was one of the best in the league as was Don Prouty at fullback. Other lettermen are Don Fenner, quarterback; Dan Gudgeon sprint star at half; Dick Price, tackle; and Francis Weber, guard.

New boys who may help include 190 pound tackles Tom Mylott and Herb Ward and a 220 pound center, Jerome Kiolbassa. Ela-Vernon started school this week on Tuesday, the delay due to construction of a new addition to the school building.

Three star Antioch players of last year are enrolling this week at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. The little Ohio school gets a real prospect in all-conference Charley Bock, plus Jerry Quilty and Gordon Heuer who played on the championship basketball squad.

A STORY IN THE Independent Register states the present Libertyville high school building may be sold to the Archdiocese of Chicago for a Catholic high school for $400,000. The matter will soon be put before the voters.

If the sale is approved the new Libertyville school under construction will be enlarged to handle 1,200 students instead of dividing the enrollment between the new and the old buildings. If the deal goes through a good sized Catholic school would result for there is a large radius from Libertyville not served at present by such an institution.

Cardinals Out To Gain Revenge For Last Year

by BOB PADDOCK

The two extremes, largest and smallest in four years, will meet on the gridiron of Barrington high school Saturday afternoon when Arlington Heights high school Cardinals open the 1953 football season.

Game time for the frosh-soph encounter is 12:15 with the varsity tilt following.

Down Arlington way the best prospects and largest squad in four years is hoping for a decent year this time, aiming to gain at least a .500 rating in West Suburban league competition. To date the Cardinals have won one, tied one, and lost 12 in two years of WSC play.

UP BARRINGTON way, where football titles became a dime a dozen in the much smaller Northwest league, and where winning games has become a habit, Coach Tom Frederick states he has the smallest squad in four years.

With Don Bock, offensive mainstay of last year, gone the way of all graduates, the Bronchos must rely on others to carry the ball.

Eleven lettermen are listed, however, which packs a lot of varsity experience into the lineup. Veteran players are listed at all starting positions except the guards. Thus, in spite of optimism among some at Arlington, the Cardinals will have a tough row to hoe.

THE TENTATIVE opening lineup listed by Coaches Ormsbee and Beckman at Heights will probably be changed somewhat by game time, but most of the boys will be ready with the fewest injuries in years racked up this season.

Only hurts of mention so far are Wayne Brumm with a bruised calf and Don Hoth with pulled muscles. Neither will be kept out long, however.

The locals won't use the platoon system too much, according to the mentors, but will rest the boys now and then if necessary. Most boys will be asked to go both ways while they are on the field.

STILL LACKING the proper pass defense, with defense shaky at times, was proven Saturday in an intrasquad game won by the Whites over the Reds, 12-7. Dick Winterbauer captained the Whites and played half the game for the Reds. Charles Verret led the Reds.

Most of the boys looked good, particularly on drive and aggressiveness, with Carroll Werner doing a particularly good job of running, speed, deception and drive. Winterbauer also looked good. Werner scored the two TDs for the whites via the ground, with a Winterbauer to Maher pass accounting for the Reds' sole score.

THE BARRINGTON opening lineup includes three juniors, the rest seniors. Coaching the host school are Tom Frederick and Bob Madding, with Harold Gaffney and Wayne Siegworth leading the frosh-sophs.

Since 1939 Arlington has won three, lost two and held Barrington in a scoreless tie on the gridiron. Most recent history, though, shows the Bronchos winning the last two. Last year it was 6-0 after the Heights frosh-sophs had rapped out a 39-0 surprise victory.

The Cardinals will open the conference season a week later on Friday night, September 25, against Downers Grove. Season reserved tickets for the four home games are on sale at both Millay's in downtown Arlington Heights and at the high school. Price is $4.00 for the same reserved seat at all games.

Coach Charles Feutz looks over the expected mainstays of the Palatine backfield which has its first test this week against Libertyville in the football opener. Northwest slate opens next week with the Pirates defending champs. Players, left to right, Dick Meyer, Norman Stenzel, Alan Eck, Ray Lorden.

Name 8 Teams In Midget Football At Arlington Hts.

Midget football, that fall activity sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district to teach kids the fundamentals and safety of the gridiron sport, is gaining popularity as the weeks go by.

Ninety-four boys, fifth through eighth grades reported to Coaches "Bus" Ormsbee, Bill Beckman and Carl Nelson Saturday morning with more youngsters expected in Saturdays to come.

The entire group has been divided into eight teams, four fifth and sixth graders, and four seventh and eighth graders. Scrimmages are held each Saturday morning with high school players coaching and teaching the boys tricks of the trade.

BLOCKING and tackling, those age-old fundamentals of football, will be stressed in this Saturday's workout from 9:30 to 11:30 on the high school practice field. The coaches are determined to teach these first requisites to enable boys to play better football and avoid injuries in later years.

In case of rain Saturday there will be no practice.

The boys who have their own equipment are urged to continue using it for the park board doesn't have enough to go round. Blue jeans, T-shirts and sweat shirts are the dress, with rubber cleated football shoes urged instead of regular football footwear. Of course, tennis or gym shoes are satisfactory.

Card Sophs Green But Want To Play Football

Whether Coach John Ligon's frosh-soph football team at Arlington Heights high school can possibly repeat the 39-0 shellacking dealt Barrington last year is nigh to impossible this season. The younger Cardinals are less in number, lack experience to the extent Barrington has, and don't have the natural ability of several of last year's second year men now with the varsity.

The young Bronchos, in addition, will be out to make amends for last year and have a good many boys who played at Heights in '52 as freshmen.

THE LOCALS had a 3-3 mark last season. They beat Niles and Palatine twice, then lost to Maine, Crystal Lake and Hinsdale.

Gone from last year's freshman starting eleven are Hildebrandt, who quit school; McDonald, outstanding golf prospect who hurt his shoulder last year, is not out; Sieck, who hurt his back during the summer, is also not present; and Simon, outstanding guard last year, was unable to come out for football this fall. Boeger will be moving to Elmhurst after football is over.

NEWEST FEATURE certain to disrupt thoughts of opposing players this year will be the southern tones of Jerry Johnson, sophomore quarterback who moved in from Ft. Worth, Texas. The coaches still haven't become accustomed to the drawl.

Three boys listed by Coaches Ligon and Mudge as probable starters are competing in football for the first time. They include Jack Ebert at right half, Ken Korcek at fullback, and John Sujack at left half.

Other probable starters include Roger Boeger and Wayne Malzahn at ends, Bill Lussow and Dennis Striegl at tackles, Mickey Harris and Al Rose at guards, and Ronnie Herff at center. The sophomores have the same schedule as the varsity.

OTHER BACKS not much different in ability as the starters, include Halverson, Busse, Green, Wille and Long. Other linemen certain to see plenty of action include Denny Evans, Dave Schimmel, Bob Harrington, Larry Brumm and John Cummings.

In an intrasquad game Saturday John Sujack stole the show, though all of the boys looked good.

Arlington Frosh Point For Opener Next Week

Arlington's freshman football team, coached by the Scandinavian duo of Curtis Larsen and Carl Nelson, will open its 1953 season against Glenbard Thursday of next week, September 24. The Bards will travel to Arlington.

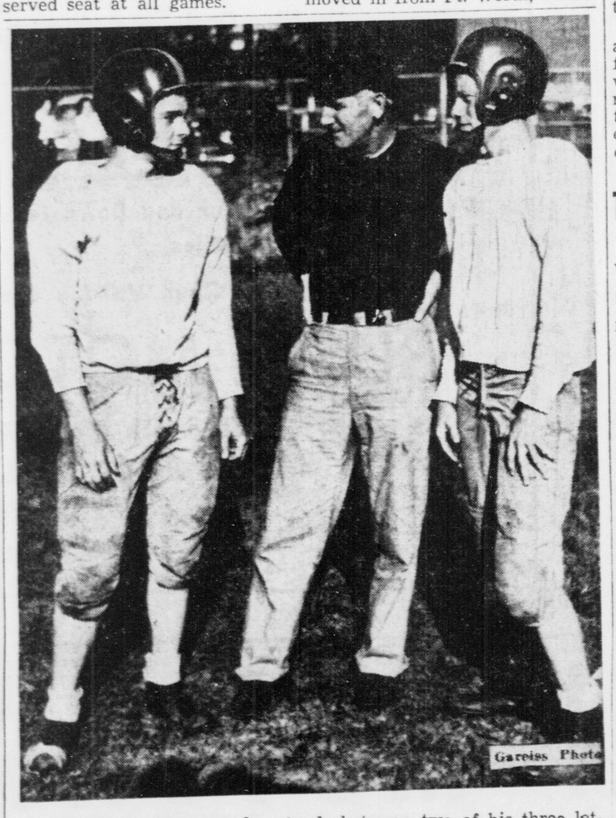

Not too much is yet known about possibilities of the local frosh with the coaches working with two teams. Longer scrimmages have been in order for the yearlings this week though emphasis is still being placed on blocking and tackling.

Merchants Beat Chgo. Elks To Stay In Tourney Race

The Mount Prospect Merchants defeated the Chicago Elks Saturday evening, Sept. 12, to advance to the quarter finals in the Highwood, lower lake region invitational tournament.

Double pleasure was gained from this victory as the Merchants defeated Foyet, a pitcher of some reknown from Thillens boys major league baseball.

Foyet pitched very good ball, allowing six hits, struck out ten, and walked but one.

SOENKSEN, Merchant's fireball pitcher, who is rated one of the two best pitchers in Little League baseball in this area, threw superb ball to defeat Foyet. He struck out 11, allowed only two hits, and walked none. In addition he banged out two of the Merchants six hits.

Fred Boedeker, Fritz Peterson, Denny Thill and Bill Zadel with one hit apiece, gathered the Merchants four other safeties.

CHUCK STARAL and Art Tews replaced Gary Jobst and Ken Grams in the lineup, and helped to win the ball game for these two boys who were inactive due to illness.

Richie Erber, behind the plate for the Merchants, caught a wonderful game to aid Dave Soenksen's shutout effort.

In the outfield Zadel, Leekley and Tews played errorless ball as did the infield of Boedeker, Peterson, Thill and Staval.

PETERSON led off the Merchants' 6th inning with a single. Staval in an attempt to sacrifice him, forced him at second. Danny Thill, Merchant's next batter, with a two strike and no ball count on him, then lined the next pitch over the center field fence for a home run to give his team the winning 2-0 margin and end the ball game.

NEXT SATURDAY evening at 7:30 p. m. the Merchants will attempt to advance to the semi finals in the Highwood tournament.

Sunday, September 20, at 2 p. m. they will meet Wauconda Little League at their home grounds, School and Busse sts. in Mount Prospect.

Bisons Have 8 Lettermen With NW Opener Next

Bensenville doesn't expect to get too far in Northwest conference football this year, but eight veterans are certain to form the nucleus of a self-respecting team for Coaches Tom Meneguin and Frank Novatny.

The Bisons open at home Saturday against the Leyden JVs. Game time is 7:30 p. m.

Tentative lineup released by Meneguin Monday of this week includes Brown, Benhart and Whitney in the backfield, and Walsh, VonDruska, Barker and Emory in the line.

Fred Froelich, who lettered at end last year, will not be eligible for the Leyden game, but is certain to make himself known in league play a week later.

Backfield will probably open with Herb Brown 155 at quarter, Eugene Benhart 140 at left halfback, Allan James 160 or Richard D'Hooge 175 at right half, and Ellsworth Whitney 160 at full.

Whitney was an end last year but has been moved to fullback for this season.

Pick Cheerleaders For Arlington High

The two-team, twelve cheerleaders have been named at Arlington Heights high school with the 15 members of the athletic and physical education departments picking the girls, it was announced this week by Gay Hughes, gymnastics instructor and leader of the cavorting cuties.

Shouting for the varsity will be Joan Keppler, Lenaye Gabel, Sana Franke, Barbara Meissner, Barbara Russell. Sue Revers.

Sophomores chosen are Carol Rapp, Judi Luehring, Wanda Fortin. From the freshmen ranks are Judy Peterson, Judy Clabaugh and Judy Johnston.

Pirate Frosh To Meet Niles, Sophs At West Aurora

Palatine high football teams will all be in action Friday evening with the varsity game against invading Libertyville at Community Park at 8 p.m., the feature engagement. Niles frosh will play Palatine yearlings in the preliminary at 6:30.

Meanwhile Coaches Claude Bailey and John Ellis will take the sophomore squad to Aurora to meet West high at 6:30 in a prelim to their varsity game with Morris.

Libertyville, always a power in North Suburban football, beat Palatine's Northwest champs last year, 19-13, at the Pirates' homecoming. This season both teams will be fielding green lineups and both are singing the blues about lack of weight among their better boys.

LIBERTYVILLE claims their heaviest varsity man is 185 and that is just what the top Palatine starter is rated. Coach Charley Feutz of Palatine will have a fast backfield featuring Norm Stenzel and Alan Eck but will be very green at the tackles and ends.

On offense the Pirates are expected to cause plenty of trouble with fast ball toters and good passing. The big question is how many mistakes the boys make on defense.

Libertyville has seven lettermen including Harold Dortch, 180 guard; John Vondracek, 165 tackle; Larry Brickert, 165 halfback; Allen Archibold, 165 fullback; Dick Wiedner, 165 guard; Jack Graham, 160 halfback; and Larry Kick, 165 fullback.

SO THE WILDCATS have four backs, two guards and a tackle who are veterans. Their green material will play the same positions as will the Palatine newcomers. Most of the Libertyville squad is made up of juniors who as frosh won five out of seven and as sophs had a similar record on the JV team. Libertyville is coached by Harvey Sanders assisted by Kelly Cox, line coach.

Admission to Friday's double bill will be 60 cents for adults and 40 cents for students. Bleachers to seat 1,000 spectators will be available.

Bears And Cards To Renew Feud At Wrigley Field

The Bears will be "back home" in Wrigley Field Sunday afternoon, Sept. 20, for the first time this season when they face their crosstown rivals, the Cardinals. Kickoff time is 1:05 o'clock.

Theirs is the oldest feud in professional football. Beginning in 1920, the series shows the Bears owning a generous edge with 40 victories, 17 defeats and 6 ties. The Sept. 20 game will be the Bruins' last pre-season match before they open the National Football League schedule against the Colts at Baltimore Sept. 27.

Since it will be their final tune-up before the championship campaign gets under way, the Bears will be close in numbers to their season personnel.

The veterans — Capt. George Connor, Ed Sprinkle, George Blanda, Billy Stone, John Dottley, Fred Morrison and others—are reported as sharp as ever.

EMERSON COLE, big fullback who joined the Bears in time for the final game of 1952 after having been with the Cleveland Browns for three seasons, and Jerry Shipkey, twice all league Linebacker who was acquired from Pittsburgh in an off-season trade for rookie end Art De Carlo, add experience.

Among the more promising rookies are Tommy O'Connell, the Big Ten passing record breaker from Illinois; and Willie Thrower of Michigan State, both quarterbacks; John Kreamcheck, giant center from William and Mary; Billy Anderson, the No. 1 draft choice and an excellent runner-punter; Kline Gilbert, all-American from Mississippi; Jim Caldwell, 260 pounder from Tennessee A. and M.; and Art Davis, just out of the Marines, all tackles; Alvin Duke, speedster from North Texas State; and Joe Koch, right halfback from Wake Forest.

THE CARDINALS open with a new coach, "Jumbo Joe" Stydahar, five times an all-league tackle for the Bears. Stydahar, who led the Los Angeles Rams to the league championship in 1951, has shifted fleet Charley Trippi back to left half after the latter had spent two seasons at quarterback.

One of his major problems will be development of a real, take-charge quarterback who can pass according to major league standards. From the outset, Stydahar was committed to a rookie in this position with half a dozen graduates from last fall's collegiate ranks giving him a good range of selection.

Best to emerge have been Dale Samuels, the pitcher from Purdue who, like O'Connell, is a native of Chicago; Ray Nagel of U.C.L.A.; and Jim Root, Miami, of Ohio.

Arlington Yankees, Giants Tie For Little League Title

By the Dad of A Little Leaguer

The Arlington Heights Little League will have co-champions—the Yankees and the Giants!

This was decided last Saturday when an all-night rain had left the Recreation Park diamond unfit for play and league officials cancelled the big special playoff battle.

Lloyd Taylor, president of the league, and a committee came up with this decision after conferring with Tom Thornton, superintendent of the park.

THE SEASON has been long enough . . . almost too long, Taylor and his aides felt. An attempt to play off the 8-2 season record tie between the two powerful teams at a later date might further detract from the youngsters interest in Fall sports—and school studies.

Thus, the only playoff will be the "World Series" showdown between the big league Yankees and Dodgers. The Arlington Heights Little Leaguers each will claim 50 per cent of the inaugural pennant—a proud feeling of accomplishment for both the Giants and the Yankees.

THE GIANTS were within two outs of clinching the flag when Kent Danes of the Yankees slammed a grand-slam home run to give his team a spectacular 4-2 victory. Kent's clout enabled the Yankees to match the Giants in the final standings and force the ultimately cancelled playoff contest.

Thus, Dennis Schumacher, the Yankees' clever little southpaw and Tom Taylor, the Giants' ruggedly built right-handed, never got to show their pitching wares for the last time in Little League competition.

Next year, these two stout-hearted flingers will have become 13 years old and will step up into the Pony League play for boys 13 to 15.

ONE EVENT the weatherman could do nothing about was the Arlington Heights Little League's Father-Son Night which was staged last Friday night in the South school gym.

Everybody in the gym was honored—league officials, managers, coaches, umpires, fathers of the players and the Little Leaguers themselves who had treated fans to a surprisingly high class caliber of baseball in the first season.

MOVIES, showing big league players in action, and refreshments by the ever-thoughtful mothers helped make the social affair one the the young 'uns will never forget.

Next Monday night, Sept. 21, the league will hold its annual meeting in Recreation Park fieldhouse at which time officers will be elected and plans for the 1954 season will be framed.

A fitting salute would be: Hail the co-champs—the Yankees and the Giants!

Northwest Conference Teams in Non-League Tilts This Week End

Northwest conference teams go into action this week end in non-conference games and then open the seven game league season the week end of September 25-26. The Libertyville at Palatine and Grayslake at Warren games pit Northwest gridders against North Suburban teams.

Ela-Vernon plays a night tilt Friday at Oswego and Antioch is at home to Wilmot Wis. under the arcs. Saturday night the potentially tough Grant team is host to North Suburban Zion-Benton.

36 Entries In Airedale Show

The Airedale Terrier sanction match held last Sunday, September 13 wound up with a total entry of some 36 odd dogs which for a sanction affair was no small group especially with Airedales.

Judging started around 2:30 p.m. and for the rest of the afternoon the grounds of the Dr. Justin Fleischmann home out on Ela rd. in Palatine township was somewhat taken over by dogs and spectators alike.

Local entries included the William E. Sauer's dog "Hank' from Arlington Heights which was handled by their son Bob. From down Bensenville way, Mrs. William H. Vogel and her son brought up their dog "Royal Texas Tweed," which by the way is a dog that was bred in in Ohio. From Palatine, Kenneth Leaf of Teonia Woods entered a puppy in the puppy class and also from the same town Dr. Fleischmann entered four of his dogs including 3 puppies and his Champion "Ardendale Our Best," C.D.

THERE WERE 3 out of state entries including a dog each from South Bend, Indiana, Ann Arbor, Michigan and Madison, Wis. However, as far as local dogs were concerned it was for young Linda Fleischmann of Palatine to bring home the honors in the area when she handled her puppy "Daisy Mae of Dog Patch" to the first place position in the puppy bitch class.

One thing proven is that it is not only the parents who can handle their dogs well in shows.

Second place went to Mrs. J. Fleischmann with her entry of "Sally of Dog Patch"; third place to Bill Garner of Deerfield with "Ardendale Betsy Billy" and fourth place to Dr. Fleischmann with "Gin of Dog Patch."

THE BEST DOG In Match went to "Buckborne Micky" owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Weiler of Chicago whose dog also was the Winners Dog in his class. The Winners Bitch went to "Rang Ho Alfhild" owned by H. Giddy Nielsen of Fox River Grove.

A few notes of general interest to people in the area included such things as that the judge of the event, Earle Woodward of Northbrook, used to live around Palatine years ago. It was back in 1919 that he lived on a farm owned by Wallace Wakam in the area which today is now Inverness. During those early years Mr. Woodward started to raise Airedales and is considered one of the top authorities in the country on this breed of dog.

SPEAKING ABOUT the breed of dog in general brings to mind why the Airedale Terrier Club of Illinois, sponsors of the match, consider their breed of dog almost "indistructable."

The dog brought from Ann Arbor, Michigan, decided to go on a "Cook's Tour" of the countryside and the night before the match wandered away from his owners who were staying with friends near Waukegan rd.

Results were that the dog was hit twice by cars, but still ended up at the show the following day with a slight limp, a number of bruises and a certain loss of dignity.

To Honor Car Dealers

The Chicago Motor Club will honor 540 automobile dealers at a banquet in the Conrad Hilton Hotel September 26, Chas. M. Hayes, president of the motoring organization, announced.

Invitations were mailed August 15 to all car dealers who since 1946 loaned a car to a high school driver training program in the Motor Club's Illinois and Indiana territory.

Special presentations will be made to those dealers who during 1952-53 gave cars. They will receive framed certificates of award from the Motor Club in token of their helpfulness in promoting traffic safety among teen-agers, the age group with the highest traffic accident rate

Inverness Feasts Caddies, Gives Prizes

Thirty-five caddies were entertained with a special dinner last Thursday night at the Inverness golf club. Jack Harris, clubhouse manager, put out a real feed for the boys and "Bud" McCartney, president of the club, presented prizes to all the boys present. The gifts were from donations made by club members during the past month, both in cash and merchandise.

Richard Florey, caddy master, told the boys how he won an Evans scholarship to the University of Illinois. His advice to the boys was to study hard in school and work hard to become a better caddy.

McCartney presented honor caddy badges to Jim Brown, Dale Hertel, Ronald Lanka, Allan Geffe, and Bob Haemker. Earlier badges had been awarded to Jim McCreery, Jim Barry, Gerry Meyer, Bob Hertel, and John Wick. Top caddies for the season were Jim Brown with 220 points, Jim McCreery with 192, and Jim Barry 188 based on excellence of work and number of days worked. Brown had 52 caddy rounds with excellent rating by members during the last five weeks of the season.

Other caddies rating high in points were Dale Hertel 148, Gerry Meyer 146, Ronald Lanka 143, Robert Hertel 142, Allan Geffe 136, Bob Haemker 131, John Wick 126, Douglas Culver 120, Wayne Hertel 117, Ed Barry 114, Milton Austin 100, and Allen Nelson 89. Other boys who caddied 20 or more days during the season were Roger Knitter, Jeff John, Otto Dreyer, Keith Culver, Ronald Hattendorf.

Trophies were awarded to the caddy tournament winners with Fred Breitling winner of class "A" and George Beyer, second, and Peter John class "B" winner with Gerry Meyer, runnerup.

Pheasant Outlook Bright

Competent observers who have made special early morning trips to observe pheasant broods are counting more birds per square mile this year than in several previous seasons. These early indications point to one of the best pheasant crops for the gunner next November that he has ever had in Illinois.

Dry weather has not appeared to harm the pheasant broods as yet.

AN INTERESTING shooting situation may develop if predictions for getting out the corn at an unusually early date materializes. In some years past, the shooter has blamed the extensive standing corn for his lack of success. It's possible that this season will see the reversed situation.

We are not fearful that lack of standing corn will endanger the pheasant population too much as the cock pheasant has amply demonstrated his exceptional ability to take advantage of the stingiest cover available. What we do fear is the hunter who shoots hens when he fails to find cock birds.

FOR THE FIRST time this year there will be an opportunity to get an idea of just how well the multiflora rose plantings will serve the pheasant. It has taken about 10 years for these plantings to mature. Now there are enough mature hedges throughout the state so sportsmen will be able to determine whether or not this emergency cover will influence our Illinois pheasant population.

The protection multiflora rose affords will be most evident in the survival of young birds that likely used it to avoid their natural enemies during the period of growth when they were unable to fly. Winter survival is more assured because rose plantings furnish cover and emergency food supply when heavy snows cover the ground.

UNSELFISHNESS

Big Dumb Tackles? Not at Illinois

Coach Ray Eliot is grooming Captain Bob Lenzini and Don Ernst as 1953 starting tackles. Neither is big, and they certainly aren't dumb.

Both Lenzini and Ernst were in the upper five per cent of their high school graduating classes. And they have continued their scholastic achievements as honor students at Illinois.

Despite their size — Lenzini weighed 195 pounds when practice opened; Ernst 192 — they both are standout linemen who began collegiate careers as guards.

But remarkable part of their story is their work in the classroom. Both are enrolled in tough curricula — Lenzini in engineering, Ernst in liberal arts and sciences (pre veterinary).

Ernst carried 19 hours of work during the second semester of last school year. That's an exceptionally heavy schedule, but he still compiled a 4.21 average (5.0 is perfect). He had eight hours of "A", seven hours of "B", and four hours of "C".

Lenzini's average for the same period was practically as good. The Illini captain carried 17 hours of work, and his average was 4.17. He had six hours of "A", eight hours of "B", and 3 hours of "C".

To Meet Next Week

Illinois and Nebraska, opponents in the season's fotball opener in Memorial Stadium September 26, will be playing for the first time in 28 years.

Illini and Cornhuskers last met in 1925 when Nebraska beat Red Grange's senior-year team 14-0 at Urbana. Grange and Co. had previously dealt Nebraska two defeats, however, 24-7 when Red was a sophomore and 9-6 in Grange's junior season.

Franchise Taxes Level

Collections of franchise fees and taxes for the first eight months of this year have leveled off to about the same amount collected last year, secretary of state Charles F. Carpentier reported.

The total of $4,105,427.13 received so far by the corporation department is $15,462.65 below the 1952 figure, secretary Carpentier said, and predicted that collections for the entire year will be about the same as last year.

In not-for-profit groups, the 1,161 new Illinois organizations are 32 ahead of last year, and the 18 out-of-state units are 11 greater, Secretary Carpentier said.

Farmland Prices Ease Downward

Prices of Illinois farmland have eased downward since last November. The decline is small—only about 4 per cent to July, the latest date reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Prices are reported as of March, July, and November each year.

At the July prices, Illinois land values were back to the levels of March 1952. Even after the decline prices were still three times their 1935-39 average.

NATIONALLY the decline has been about the same. The national average has slipped 4 per cent from the level held through 1952. Average U.S. farmland prices in July were slightly more than 2½ times their 1935-39 figures.

Prices in drouth-stricken Texas show a coparatively large decrease—10 per cent since July 1952. In general, the largest decreases in prices of farm real estate have occurred west of the Mississippi River. East of the river the biggest decrease is 8 per cent, reported for Kentucky.

Who is selling farmland? Active farmers sell more than 50 per cent of the total sold. Retired farmers sell another 15 per cent, and 17 per cent of the sales are made to settle estates. These are U.S. average figures.

WHO BUYS farmland? Owner operators buy 38 per cent, tenants 26 per cent, retired farmers 5 per cent, and non-farmers 31 per cent.

In 59 per cent of the transactions, the buyer goes into debt for amounts averaging 57 per cent of the purchase price.

Prices of farmland have declined in other midwest states about the same as in Illinois. Iowa prices show a drop of nearly 7 per cent from the last half of 1952. Missouri values are off about 6 per cent since March 1952. Nebraska shows a decline of 5 per cent, mostly since March of this year.

Build Hen-House Litter In Warm Weather

Start building the litter in your hen house so that it will be ready when you move your flock inside.

Sam F. Ridlen, extension poultry specialist at the Illinois college of agriculture, says that built-up litter needs warm weather and plenty of time of break up properly before cold, damp weather sets in.

First step in the building process is to clean and disinfect your laying house thoroughly. Then put 3 or 5 inches of litter material on the floor at the start.

Stir this litter often and keep it dry, Ridlen suggests. Add new litter once a week or so until the layer over the floor is from 8 to 12 inches deep. Litter needs to be stirred up and kept dry all winter to cut down the danger from respiratory troubles in your flock as well as to prevent dirty eggs.

Crushed corncobs or wood shavings make excellent built-up litter. Materials that pack too tightly are not good because it is hard to keep them dry.

Some Profit In Sight For Cattle Feeders

Carefully bought feeder cattle probably will return some profit to corn belt farmers in the season ahead, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago predicts in its monthly review, "Business Conditions." But midwest farmers are showing little eagerness to buy at current prices.

With a corn harvest of over three billion bushels practically at the front door, farmers might be expected to have a keen interest in feeder cattle. Instead, they are standing pat while warily scanning the unprofitable feeding record of the past two years. And, as usual, the big question remains — What price can farmers pay for feeder stock and still make a profit?

WEIGHING various possibilities, the bank comes up with an answer: 15 to 16 dollars per hundredweight for good grade cattle. This estimate is based upon the likelihood that (1) prices for slaughter animals next spring will equal or slightly exceed those which prevailed last May and (2) feed costs will stay at about present levels.

Since a large volume of credit is extended to finance feeding operations, bankers have also been carefully studying the feeder profit outlook. A recent survey of midwest bankers reveals, however, that they will make loans on the usual basis to experienced farmers who can shoulder the risk.

ACCORDING to the bank, this fall brings with it all the usual market uncertainties connected with cattle feeding. In addition, the margin between feeder cattle and fat cattle bears particularly close watching because feed prices are high relative to cattle prices. Consequently, current profit prospects depend to a greater extent on "margins" than in recent years.

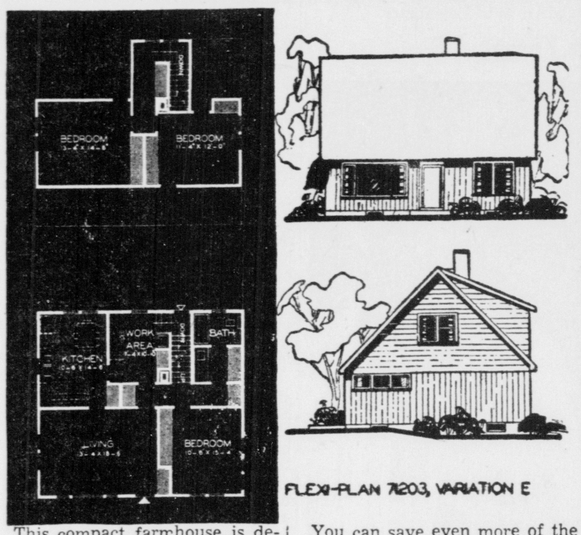

Although the support program provides farmers with an alternative outlet for their corn if profit prospects look dim, it doesn't provide an outlet for hay and pasture. Neither does it provide productive employment in the slack winter months. Thus, the bank says, most farmers who customarily feed cattle will do so again this year.

NEWS FOR THE FARMER

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

Farmhouse With Lots Of Storage

FLEXI-PLAN 71203, VARIATION E

This compact farmhouse is designed especially for young families with limited incomes.

Farm Adviser, Carl F. Mees, points out that this plan includes the features most commonly wanted in their homes by farm families.

These features include a workroom, bedroom and bath on the first floor, eating space in the kitchen, lots of storage space in the right places and a wash-up place near the back door.

You can save even more of the initial cost of this house by leaving the second floor unfinished, to be completed as you need it.

Flexi-Plan 71203, available at Mees's office or at the College of Agriculture, Urbana, shows how to build this house. The same set of plans also shows how you can build the house without a basement or without a second floor and how you can expand the first floor to include as many bedrooms as you want.

Pickers In Good Repair Stop Harvest Losses

Help stop harvest losses by keeping your corn picker in good repair.

Wendell Bowers, extension agricultural engineer at the Illinois college of agriculture, says that a picker operating properly will get more corn out of a field. It will also reduce time-wasting clogging, which is the direct cause of many picker accidents.

Bowers suggests that you pay particular attention to the snapping rolls. They need to be sharp to prevent clogging. A few beads of weld will help worn snapping rolls, but eventually you will need to get new rolls.

IT'S A GOOD idea to replace worn snapping rolls before the corn-picking season rolls around, because it will take some time to do the job. New rolls usually pay for themselves in one season with the corn they save.

When you check the condition of the snapping rolls on your picker, look over the rest of the machine too. Be sure that all the chains and gears are in good condition and do not need to be replaced.

INSPECT THE husking bed closely to be sure that the rolls are in good shape and the tension springs are not weak or broken. If chains, elevator flights, belts, sprockets, bearings and bushings look as if they might not last out the season, either replace them now or have the parts ready for repair when you start picking.

For further information on how to reduce corn harvest losses, ask for your county farm adviser's copy of Circular 697, "Corn picker operation to save corn and hands." Or write directly to the college of agriculture, Urbana.

Poor Practices Steal Much Of Farm Income

Seven undesirable characters rate high on the farmer's public-enemy list. They steal many of his earnings.

With out trying to rank them, farm management men at the University of Illinois list them as low volume, bad weather, high costs, low prices, low yields, inefficient livestock and poor cropping systems. Have any of them robbed you?

You can't do much about weather and the general price level, of course. But, according to J. B. Claar, you can combat the others if you study your business and correct its weaknesses.

VALUE OF TOTAL production on the average 160-acre grain farm last year was less than $11,000. Figuring all costs, only $110 was left to pay for management ability. If your farm uses less than 24 months of labor, this low-volume thief may be stealing from you.

A good cropping system and fertility program can improve low yields and low volume of business and give you some protection against bad weather. It should include all the high-profit crops you can grow and still keep your farm in good shape.

Claar says you can lick high costs and inefficient livestock only by studying your records carefully to find out just what is wrong. High costs are not bad in themselves if your livestock and crop yields are high and you are making profitable use of labor and equipment.

Plan Big Dairy Show At Chicago Oct. 10-17

Early entries from the leading breeders of purebred dairy cattle indicate a huge showing of all breeds at the first international dairy show, scheduled to open October 10 for an 8-day run through October 17.

It will be held in the spacious recently air-conditioned International Amphitheatre, one of the country's largest and finest exhibition buildings which is also the home of the world-famed International Live Stock Exposition.

Officials of the show predict an entry of over 2000 head. There will also be classes for 4-H and F.F.A. members to exhibit animals of their own raising in all the breeds.

Spectacular entertainment in connection with the Chicago Dairy Show is assured in a big time rodeo competition in which cowhands of North and South America will compete for rich money prizes and points to determine international championships of the year in bronc-riding, calf-roping, bull-dogging, and Brahma bull riding contests.

Seed Treatment Important Here

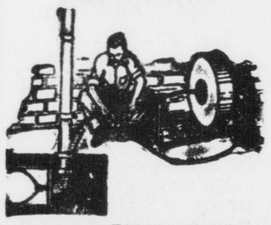

Five reasons why it pays to treat seed every year according to Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees are as follows:

1. Treatment kills diseases on seed.
2. Protects the seed in the soil.
3. Improves the seed.
4. Raises the yield.
5. Improves the quality.

Be sure to plant only clean treated seed this year. This is an approved agricultural production recommendation by the Illinois grain corporation association.

Build Farm Plan Step by Step

The most profitable farm plan is built logically, step by step. You take the steps in order, but one is as important as the other.

Size up your situation first, says Leonard Kyle, farm economist of the University of Illinois. Inventory your resources. How good is your soil? How heavily can it be cropped? What's your best market? How much labor do you have?

Next, plan your crop rotation and fertility program. Grow crops that fit best and are most profitable. Also, plan to keep your soil productive

Last, plan your livestock program. Use livestock. Kyle says, to supply a market for resources you can't use in other ways. Roughage, for instance, has no good market except as livestock feed. Many farms have labor that can't be used profitably except through the production of livestock and livestock products.

Livestock vary in the amount of roughage and labor they need. Pick livestock that will make full use of plentiful resources and that stretch out scarce ones.

Shear Early

Shear your ram before breeding season starts if he has a heavy fleece.

Put Those Extra Dollars In Soil Conservation

In few places can a farmer invest his money better than in soil conservation improvements if his farm happens to need conservation work.

Investments in conservation have returned an average of between 12 and 30 per cent in Illinois in the last 10 years. Soil conservation service economist Elmer L. Sauer of the University of Illinois explains the figures this way:

Average net earnings for the last 10 years on "conservation" farms were $6.26 an acre higher than the average net earnings of "non-conservation" farms. The two groups of farms were evenly matched in everything except whether or not they had a conservation plan.

COSTS FOR the higher earnings on the "conservation" farms varied from $20 to $50 an acre.

"The costs sound high, but when figured as investments they give excellent returns," points out Sauer, who is in charge of research in conservation economics.

Soil conservation practices allow heavier cropping with less damage to the soil. Seven-year results of contour farming, as reported by Sauer, show yield increases of 12 per cent for corn, 12 per cent for soybeans, 16 per cent for oats and 17 per cent for wheat.

Record Cow

A registered Guernsey cow, Langmeadow Cajill, owned by Gertrude McNaught, Elgin, put 12,873 pounds of milk and 666 pounds of butterfat into the country's breadbasket. This is according to the official Advanced Registry record released by The American Guernsey Cattle Club. "Cajill" was a junior three year-old and was milked two times daily for 365C days.

Guernsey cows on official test have steadily increased production over the years. The average cow in the U. S. produces only about one half as much as the average purebred Guernsey on official test.

The sire of "Cajill" is Caumsett King Royal. Forty-eight sons and daughters of this bull are listed in the Performance Register of The Americon Guernsey Cattle Club.

This record was supervised by the University of Illinois.

TAX FACTS

By George L. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Everett M. Dirksen and Paul H. Douglas, United States Senators elected from Illinois, provide the people back home by their votes on important bills with a box score by which to judge them.

Senate roll calls of most significance to taxpayers at the recent session of Congress have been compiled by the National Conference of State Taxpayer Executives so that taxpayers in Illinois and other states may know how their senators voted.

ON FOREIGN aid issues, a proposed reduction of $71,800,000 in funds for mutual defense financing was defeated 37-45, with both Dirksen and Douglas voting against the reduction. A proposal to limit 1954 foreign aid expenditures to 5½ billion dollars was defeated 33-49, with both Dirksen and Douglas against the proposal. They also both voted against a proposed $500,000,000 cut in funds for military assistance to Europe, defeated 32-52. Douglas voted for and Dirksen against eliminating a $50,000,000 item for the mutual security appropriation for mutual special weapons planning.

Under the Reorganization Act of 1949, reorganization plans submitted by the President become effective unless "vetoed" by action of a constitutional majority of either Senate or House (49 Senators or 218 Representatives). A proposal to make it easier to "veto" any reorganization plan by a simple majority of those voting in either the Senate or House was defeated 16-46, with both Dirksen and Douglas voting against the proposal.

In consideration of the so-called Tidelands oil bill, an amendment proposing that tidelands oil revenues be used for federal aid to education failed 33-56. Douglast voted for the federal aid to education amendment, Dirksen against.

AFTER PASSAGE of the bill giving control over tidelands oil to the states, another bill provided for federal control over oil and other resources on the continental shell beyond the tidelands limits. An amendment earmarking for education any revenue from outer continental shelf oil was passed by the Senate 45-37, with Douglas voting for the amendment, Dirksen against. The bill as amended went to a conference committee which agreed to strike the amendment. The Senate then adopted the conference committee report, killing the oil-for-education amendment, by a vote of 45-43. Dirksen voted for the conference committee report, Douglas against.

A motion to disapprove the President's reorganization plan No. 2 for reorganization of the agriculture department was defeated 29-46. Dirksen voted for the disapproval motion, Douglas against.

Dirksen voted for a bill, which passed 65-16, providing for sale of government-owned rubber plants. Douglas voted against the bill.

On the bill extending the excess profits tax to December 31, 1953, an amendment was defeated 34-52 to grant small corporations a $100,000 exemption from the tax. Dirksen voted against the amendment, Douglas supported it.

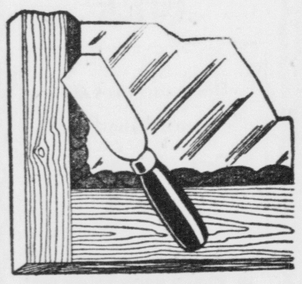

I count him braver who overcomes his desires than him who conquers his enemies, for the hardest victory is the victory over self.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Improved Putty Knife

TO SIMPLIFY and improve the job of puttying around a new pane of glass, grind down one corner of the putty knife as shown in the illustration from Family Handyman. The precise angle is not important. Always grind on the rim of a grinding wheel, never against the flat side.

With the cutoff, it becomes simple to rest the new edge against the glass to steady the knife while the other edge flattens the putty. Following the usual method, with the point in the way, it is nearly impossible to make a straight line.

The improved putty knife permits much speedier work, too.

Grind the tool slowly so that the temper will not be removed from the blade by overheating.

About Your Health

Many people eat for the love of eating, while others do so because it seems necessary, giving little thought to the real reason of taking food into the body. Some load themselves with starches, and others eat sparingly of vegetables only. Few people give real thought to the meaning of nutrition and just why food, adequately balanced, is essential to the body's well-being.

Actually nutrition means the ability of the body to absorb and assimilate the necessary foods.

Interestingly enough, more attention has been directed at nutritional standards in recent years, and our knowledge of nutrition is recognized as of great importance in relation to health and disease. The application of this knowledge to the treatment of disease is becoming more comprehensive each year, and diet therapy is found to be an important factor in the treatment of many diseases with which it had not been associated previously.

TO HAVE good nutrition a person must eat and assimilate a suitable metabolic mixture of all substances necessary for health, meeting the individual needs. Such a diet must contain certain essential requirements such as adequate protein, mineral elements, vitamins, sufficient calories for energy requirements and water.

The term protective foods has been applied to meat, milk, eggs, fruits and leafy vegetables. Foods not included in this category of protective foods are conductive to early degenerative diseases.

Provided no expedient exists, such as a diseased condition calling for a special diet, the right quantity of the protective foods is one pint of milk for adults, one quart for children, and three or four glasses or more in pregnancy; one egg; one or more servings of meat, fish or fowl; three large servings of vegetables, one a green, leafy vegetable, besides a potato; two or more servings of fruit, one raw; one tablespoon of butter; one serving of whole grain, or enriched cereal, and 3 slices of whole grain or enriched bread.

BY EATING these necessary protective foods, a person receives the necessary elements and, if his health permits, may eat other foods that he chooses. Individual needs vary when conditions such as illness, increased working hours, extremes of temperatures to which workers are exposed with increased perspiration.

Other factors are those that produce a proportionate increase in the body's nutritional requirements.

Propose Addition To Adler Park Pool

A record-smashing attendance of 20,710 at Adler Park pool in Libertyville this past summer has spurred plans for a proposed addition to the swimming pool.

Park director Tom Carlson pointed out that this summer's attendance bettered last year's mark by 4,000. He said the growing number of persons using the pool makes the addition the number one objective for the coming year.

Preliminary sketches call for an addition of 30 x 75 feet to the present 27 x 75 foot pool.

The addition would be located at the west side of the present pool, making a T-shape of the overall pool. Also a part of the plan is a new, modern bathhouse.

Estimated cost of the addition and bathouse is $40,000.

September Is The Time To Fertilize Lawns

Early September is the time to fertilize your lawn, says farm adviser Carl F. Mees. On the average lawn, use 15 to 20 pounds of a 10-8-6 fertilizer, or one like it. A 10-10-10 fertilizer is good. If you don't get a rain immediately after you put the fertilizer on, brush it off the grass blades. It may damage the grass.

September is the best time of year to start a new lawn. The grass will grow enough in the fall and the following spring to make a dense turf that will resist weeds.

YOU CAN plant many trees and shrubs in fall, as well as in spring. If you plant them in late September or early October, their roots will have a chance to get established in the soil before extremely cold weather arrives. Plants set out in the fall need a good watering immediately after planting. Then mulch them with several inches of ground corn cobs or other mulching materials. Don't plant flowering dogwood or redbud.

Before buying any trees or shrubs for fall planting, make sure that those you select will fit into your over-all landscape plan.

Early September is a good time to prune evergreens that have grown out of bounds. When pruning, make sure that the pruned plant is smaller than you want it.
